Value Proposition – Parameters involved in costing

Silver ODC carries multiple parameters in considering costs. There are following components of the valuation of ODC.

1 Initial fix investment

Silver ODC proposes its engagement model such a way that client's initial investment is minimized. This is one time investment cost. Client will require to investment for –

- IT infrastructure like Desktops, PCs, Servers, Network components, printers, data storage etc.
- Internet connectivity and activation charges (onetime)

2 Operational cost

Operational cost is recurring cost. Silver Touch will provide entire services on this phase. This will help clients to have low cost of ownership and scalability as and when required.

Operational cost will include

- Resource cost
 - Salaries
 - Health benefits
 - Training cost
 - Recruitment cost
- Office Rent
- Office Stationary
- Transportation (optional)
- Utility payments such as
 - Electricity
 - Telephone, Fax
 - Internet
- Administration services
- Tea, coffee and house keeping
- Data Management, IT support & maintenance

3 Contingency cost

Business always carries uncertainties. Silver Touch believes in protecting its clients from it. Silver Touch never expects its clients to pay for the entire duration of the contract when client is not interested in continuing with ODC setup. Such cost will be taken as early termination charges giving ODC 2-3 months breathing space before it is dissolved.

4 Incidental cost (optional)

Silver ODC knows business critical demands and hence offers ON DEMAND services as follows:

- Any special technology consulting or services which is out of scope
- Video conferencing on demand
